LIQUOR BRIBE INQUIRY ORDERED

AS THE COAST GUARD began an inquiry into the cause of the crash between the icebreaker Eastwind and the tanker Gulfstream, two survivors take it easy in New York. They are Bernard Pratt (left) of Pawtucket, R. I., and Leo Gervais of Lowell, Mass., who were aboard the Eastwind when it was rammed and set afire by the tanker 45 miles southeast of Atlantic City, N. J. Twelve Coast Guardsmen died.

May, Garsson Bribery, Fraud Convictions Declared Legal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 — The United States court of appeals in a 2-1 decision today upheld the wartime bribery and fraud convictions of former Rep. Andrew J. May (D) Ky., and the Garsson brothers, Murray and Henry.

May was chairman of the powerful house military affairs committee during World War II. He and the Garssons were found guilty of conspiring to defraud the government through operations of a gigantic munitions-making combine.

Justice E. Barrett Prettyman wrote the majority opinion upholding the convictions with Justice Henry R. Edgerton concurring. A dissenting opinion was filed by Chief Justice Harold M. Stephens.

SENTENCED to serve from eight months to two years in prison, May and Garssons now are at liberty on bail. They are expected to carry the appeal to the supreme court.

The appellate court decision upheld the government's charge that May took $53,000 in bribes from the Garssons for applying "pressure" which enabled the promoters to build a 78 million dollar munitions empire from a "letterhead" beginning.

Prettyman in the majority opinion rejected nine separate contentions on which defense attorneys sought to have the convictions reversed.

THE DEFENSE contended that the indictment under which the three were tried was invalid, that the trial jurist, Judge Henry A. Schweinhaut, was biased, and that government prosecutors were guilty of misconduct.

Moreover, the defense accused the trial jury of bias because of "prejudicial" material on the case carried in newspapers and on the radio.

The appeals court, in addition to rejecting those contentions, ruled against the defense claim that May and Henry Garsson could not be prosecuted in connection with matters on which they had testified before the senate war investigating committee.

Prettyman wrote that after examining all defense contentions he could find "no reversible error." He declared that Schweinhaut was "meticulous" in his efforts to make the complicated charges clear to the jury.

STEPHENS, in his dissenting opinion, declared the indictment was faulty and therefore "could not properly stand."

The dissenting justice said the charge of conspiracy in the first count of the indictment was improperly drawn and that two other counts involving the acceptance of money by a congressman were based on incorrect interpretation of the law.

Stephens said the defects he discovered were "obviously of a substantial character." He added:

"A precedent supporting an indictment with such substantial defects should, I think, not be set."

May and the Garsson brothers were sentenced July 25, 1947, after a trial to which additional drama was lent by the ex-congressman's claims of ill health.

May and the Garssons now have five days in which to notify the appeals court that they plan to carry their case to the supreme court. If they fail to do so, the appeals court will direct the district court (Continued on Page Two)

'Axis Sally' Faces Jury As Traitor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 — Mildred E. Gillars, "Axis Sally" of the wartime Nazi radio, goes on trial today to determine whether her broadcasts constituted treason against the United States.

The trial of the gray-haired 48-year-old former actress from Portland, Maine, is believed to be the first civil treason trial ever to be held in Washington.

Lawyers estimate that it will take about two months to complete. Selection of a jury got underway today in a federal courtroom given the atmosphere of a miniature United Nations hall by a complicated installation of earphones for judge, jury, lawyers and reporters.

The earphones—40 sets of them—were installed so the jurors and others can hear recordings of "Axis Sally" broadcasts the government has labeled "treasonable."

An indictment returned last Sept. 10 charged that these broadcasts were made by Miss Gillars with the intention of "weakening and destroying" the faith of American citizens in their government, creating unrest among the Allies and "weakening the fighting powers and morale" of American soldiers.

Miss Gillars, also known as Mildred Sisk, has been held without bail in District of Columbia jail since her arraignment. She has asserted that she never told U. S. soldiers to lay down their arms or said anything that could be called treasonable.

Senator Sees Cocktails As Solon Brake

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 — Sen. Douglas (D) Ill., believes that the "cocktail hour" in the nation's capital interferes with the work of congress.

The freshman senator said: "I'd be willing to hold later afternoon and evening senate committee hearings to escape the people who think a senator's time should be taken up with cocktail parties."

Douglas suggested that he would be willing to give his colleagues "an hour off for cocktails" if there was an agreement to return to work later.

He made his remarks during a Sunday meeting with reporters which ended when he looked at his watch and rushed off, saying: "Oh my! We've got to go to three cocktail parties this afternoon."

Conservatives Gain Control Of Jap Diet

TOKYO, Jan. 24 — Japan's most conservative political group swept into complete control of the Japanese diet (parliament) tonight as complete unofficial returns from yesterday's general elections gave the conservatives a clear majority.

The conservative party, Premier Shigeru Yoshida's Democratic Liberals, won 259 of the 466 places in the house of representatives, Japan's supreme legislative body.

Gen. MacArthur termed the result "a mandate for the conservative philosophy of government."

Paralleling the right wing victory was the tremendous gain by the Communists, who won 35 seats in the house where they held only four in the last session. Thus, for the first time in Japan's history, the Communists will be one of the four largest parties in the government, with sufficient strength to become a force to be reckoned with.

At the same time Japan's political center suffered a crushing blow. Unofficial final returns showed the Democrats down to 72 seats and the Social Democrats slumped to 51 from their former 110.

Among the lesser parties the peoples cooperatives took 14 seats; the Labor Farmers, who follow the Communist lead, seven; the Social Renovationists, (Continued on Page Two)

Filibuster Gag Speed Assured

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 — Chairman Hayden (D) Ariz., opened the senate rules committee's cloture hearings today with a promise of "no delay" by the Democratic majority in voting out legislation to tighten the gag on filibusters.

Hayden declared that the "only issue" before his committee is whether a mere majority of two-thirds of the senators voting shall be able to bring debate to a close on a motion or bill.

Refusal To Free Troops Bogs Parley

RHODES, Jan. 24 — Israeli-Egyptian armistice talks were threatened with complete breakdown today following Jewish cancellation of plans to free 3,000 Egyptian troops trapped in the Negev desert.

The Jews abruptly announced that the withdrawal of Egypt's Faluja Garrison, scheduled for today, could not be carried out because of "technical reasons."

(Members of the Israeli cabinet, who were scattered throughout the country because of the election campaign, were urgently summoned back to Tel Aviv last night to discuss the Rhodes talks, which were said to be in the "crisis stage.")

The news brought a wave of pessimism to the Mediterranean island of Rhodes, where the United Nations Palestine mediator, Dr. Ralph Bunche, had been pressing for an early agreement on Palestine.

The view was expressed that Israel had reneged on its promise to free the Egyptians in an effort to strengthen their position in the current bargaining over armistice lines in the Negev.

Prof. Thinks Civilization Is On Skids

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 24 — The idea that our materialistic western civilization is disintegrating much as Roman civilization broke down, only on a larger scale, was advanced today by a Marietta college professor in a new book scheduled for Fall publication.

Dr. Vincent A. McCrossen, professor of modern languages, claims that the values for the future now evolving will be spiritual values.

"We are witnessing a headlong race between the reactionaries—the materialists, totalitarians, mechanists of every type—and the creative forces of our time as to whether such a transition must destroy the physical structure of western civilization or whether it can be made by a free will adjustment to new values."

Club Raided

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 24 — Columbus police today were searching for thieves who looted the Torch Club of $245 in cash and whisky last night.

SECRETARY GENERAL of the Congress of Industrial Organizations (C. I. O.), James B. Carey (left) chats with M. Kubers of the Dutch Federation of Labor at a meeting of the World Federation of Trades Unions in Paris. New Storm Rages Across Blizzard-Whipped Range

By International News Service

A new storm headed across blizzard-whipped ranglands in the far West today as stockmen waged an all-out battle against nature in an effort to save thousands of starving livestock.

A new mass of cold air hovered over the Middle West just west of the Mississippi river and was reported by the Chicago weather bureau as heading east toward the Appalachian mountains. It was due in that area late tonight.

Heavy rains fell over most of Ohio during the weekend, but they were expected to change to snow flurries by night.

The weatherman said: "COLDER tonight. Tuesday mostly cloudy and colder." Light snow fell in some spots.

Ohio Commies Will Protest Jury System

CLEVELAND, Jan. 24 — Cleveland Communist sympathizers will stage a protest demonstration Saturday in Cleveland in answer to a plea from Leo Krzycki of Milwaukee, national president of the American Slav congress.

Krzycki urged more than 1,000 persons attending the annual Slav festival sponsored by the congress yesterday in Cleveland to protest "the undemocratic use of a Wall street jury system being used to try a legal working class party."

The demonstration was to be staged at 12:30 p. m. Saturday in front of the Cleveland federal building.

Referring to Communist leaders on trial now in New York for allegedly plotting to overthrow the government, Krzycki stated:

"We owe it to those 12 in court in New York and especially to George Pirinsky, national secretary of the American Slav congress to rally around and give our support so that no harm comes to him."

Pirinsky has been cited for deportation to his native Macedonia by federal immigration authorities, Krzycki said.

Capital Balks At Role Of Reno

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 24 — Action to keep Franklin county "from becoming the Reno of Ohio" was to be undertaken today by Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett.

Bartlett was to begin investigation of 30 divorce cases in which fake addresses may have been given to avoid long waiting periods.

Domestic relations Judge Clayton W. Rose said he has already found 12 cases in which couples falsified addresses.

He said the cases involved are mostly from Muskingum county, a six-month waiting period district.

Grand Jury Ordered To Find Facts

Indictments Asked If Charge Is Sustained

Grand jury investigation of the Circleville liquor "shakedown" case was to get underway Monday as the Pickaway county panel convened for its January session.

Common Pleas Judge William D. Radcliff in his charge to the jury instructed the 15-member body to consider the alleged $1,800 bribe attempt on four Circleville clubs.

The grand jury investigation is an outgrowth of allegations by two Circleville attorneys that a "front man" for the state liquor department attempted to obtain money in November as "protection."

ATTORNEYS Joe Adkins, Jr., and Emmitt Crist revealed before a city council meeting that contact was made with a club official here to obtain $500 each from three of the clubs and $300 from a fourth.

The man approached here was later identified as Ed Ebert, commander of the Circleville American Legion post.

Meanwhile, the state liquor control board, has begun hearings on the liquor department's "show cause" order on why Circleville should not be barred from rebate fees for the police department's alleged failure to cooperate with state agents.

Hearings on the case were opened Jan. 6, in Columbus and were continued until after Jan. 15. So far no new date has been set for resumption of the summary hearings.

Judge Radcliff told the convening grand jury:

"THE LAW in the state of Ohio forbids gambling, and regardless of our own feelings in the matter, whether we approve or disapprove of gambling, in any form, it is our duty to enforce the law."

"A great deal has been heard in the past few weeks about an attempted 'shakedown' or soliciting of a bribe."

"This has grown out of a form of gambling, namely slot machines, and if you in your wisdom feel that a crime has been committed or there is reason to believe that a crime might have been committed, you have the power to subpoena any one before this grand jury that you see fit."

"It is suggested that if you do feel that such a 'shakedown' was attempted that you go into the matter fully and completely. You should make your findings without regard for political or personal feeling and without regard for the person or persons who may be indicted as a result of your investigation."

ACCORDING to information reported by the two attorneys, the "front man" propositioned Ebert for the money and gave him a telephone number in Columbus to verify his authority. The number was reported to be Main-3281, the same as that (Continued on Page Two)

Lucky Child Saved From Sewer Trap

CLEVELAND, Jan. 24 — Twelve-year-old Margaret Theresa Renza was admittedly "just fine" today, and apparently not too-much the worse for an hour spent trapped in an underground sewer.

Little Margaret narrowly escaped death when she plunged through an open manhole and was swept more than a quarter of a mile before she was able to grasp an underground ladder.

She lost consciousness several times in her journey, tore her fingernails off fighting for a grip on sewer walls and lost her overcoat and shoes. Firemen finally found her and pulled her from her precarious perch.

Still bruised, she has been ordered to remain in bed a few days. According to her family physician, she is "the luckiest girl I have seen in 30 years of practice."

Chinese Reds Said Ready To Talk Peace

NANKING, Jan. 24 — Radio and telephone messages from Communist-held Peiping said today that Chinese Red leaders are ready to begin peace talks with Nationalist China's tottering government.

The messages, received in Nanking, were not confirmed by any government source.

The communications said merely that the Communists have designated the fallen northern city of Peiping as the site for the projected talks with the five-man peace commission appointed last Saturday by acting President Li Tsung-jen.

There was no indication that an official notice from the Reds had been forwarded to Li's "caretaker regime."

COMMUNIST troops, meanwhile, were reported to have reached Nanking's northern approaches, as weary government forces pulled back to their last barrier, the Yangtze river. The new Red advance threatened both Nanking and Shanghai.

Some Nanking quarters said that a Communist delegation for the peace talks has already been named, but reports differed as to the make-up of the group.

The information from Peiping hinted that a coalition government might eventually be established in Peiping, which is the ancient Chinese capital.

A FIVE-MAN nationalist peace delegation, appointed after President Chiang Kai-shek's abandonment of Nanking to fly to his native Fenghua, stood ready to emplane for any peace meeting site the Reds might name.

The civil war took another important turn when Gen. Li Yen-nien's two depleted Nationalist Army groups pulled out of Tushien, 40 miles above Nanking, and fell back toward Pukow, directly across the Yangtze from the capital.

Nationalist sources reported Li's troops were conducting no rearward operations to cover (Continued on Page Two)

Hoppers By Billions Wait Hatching Day

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 — The government told farmers today that a plague of "grasshoppers" by the billions may be expected this Summer in nearly every state west of the Mississippi.

The agriculture department said gloomily that "everything now points to the worst," although some natural factor such as weather unfavorable to the "hoppers" during the Spring hatching season may come to the rescue.

Regions of heaviest infestation are expected to be eastern Montana, Wyoming and Colorado; Western Nebraska and Kansas, and Texas.

But insect specialists say outbreaks of less intensity may occur all the way from Michigan to California and from the Canadian to the Mexican borders with the exception of the far Northwest.

To combat the incipient plague, the government is relying heavily on two new chemicals—chlordane and toxaphene—both of which were highly successful in tests last season.

Plagues of "hoppers" normally occur in 10-year cycles. The last big infestation was in 1940, and specialists have noted an increasing number of the pests since 1947.

Surveys made in many parts of the country last Fall gave the first definite indication that a serious situation might develop this year.

School Help Bill Enters Aid Race

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 — House Republican Leader Martin, Massachusetts, will introduce a bill today to provide 900 million dollars during the next three years for aid to education.

The financial aid would go to states and local communities which could match the funds for the construction of school buildings.

During the last congress, when Martin was speaker of the house, similar legislation died in the house education and labor committee despite announced GOP support.

Martin's bill would provide for the expenditure of 300 millions annually for three years to construct elementary, secondary, and vocational schools.

The federal funds would have to be matched on a 50-50 basis by state and local governments.

Martin, in a statement explaining details of his bill, declared that his measure "would eliminate any possible federal control of state and local educational systems."

This would be accomplished by providing that the federal funds are cleared through state departments of education, which would have the authority to determine priorities on the basis of need.

The GOP leadership explained that the federal funds could be used to make statewide surveys to determine the need for new schools, to prepare plans and specifications and to arrange for the acquisition and construction of the buildings.

Father And Boy Held As Thieves

PORTSMOUTH, O., Jan. 24 — A 34-year-old laborer and his 14-year-old son were being held at Portsmouth today after being caught in the act of robbing a confectionery store.

Police said the boy and Everett Nolan, of Sherer Hollow, were apprehended inside the store.

of the state liquor department. A man who was identified only as "The Chief" reportedly told Ebert, "Yes, he is authorized to act for us," when the call was placed.

However, the four clubs refused to pay the alleged bribe which was to give them the protection of the remainder of the year or until administration of the liquor department was changed Jan. 10.

On Dec. 7, four liquor agents headed by Inspectors Joseph Harrell and William Galayda appeared before city council to ask why Police Chief William McCrady refused to accompany agents on a raid at the Moose Club.

IT WAS reported McCrady refused to go along with the agents at that time because he had heard of the alleged "shake-down" and told the agents "I don't want to get caught in the squeeze."

The agents said they obtained the assistance of Mayor Thurman I. Miller who returned with them to the Moose Club where they found a locked door barring their admittance.

Moose officials declared they did not think it necessary to permit the officials to enter the building because they had sent their liquor license to Columbus.

However, at the control board hearing on Jan. 6, the board revoked the Moose Club's liquor license on grounds that they still were owners of the license while operating slot machines in the rooms.

IF HEARINGS on the liquor department's "show cause" order against the city are resumed it will be a question whether some $7,000 annually in rebates will be withheld for failure to cooperate in enforcement of state liquor laws.

Meanwhile, at least eight other cases will be presented to the grand jury by Prosecuting Attorney Guy Cline. They are:

Donald Crabtree, 22, of Louisville, Ky., and Edward Brown, 30, of Relief, Ky., both of whom are accused on morals counts.

Crabtree is accused of seducing a 17-year-old Ashville girl. He is under $2,000 bond. Brown is under $1,000 bond accused of enticing a nine-year-old Circleville girl.

The jury also will consider a reckless auto operation case against Walter S. Dail Jr., of Bluefield, W. Va. He was arrested in connection with the traffic death in November of Carl Mitchell of Huron Route 2.

Accused of carrying a concealed weapon, William C. Watkins is under $500 bond. Circleville police arrested him and testified they found a .32 calibre revolver on his person.

Dwight Bethard, 28, of Commercial Point, is under $500 bond for alleged assault and battery committed on his 57-year-old aunt, Anna Friece.

ACCUSED ON non-support, James T. McCain of Circleville, is awaiting grand jury action. The affidavit for his arrest was filed by McCain's wife.

Parker Route, 57, of Circleville, is accused of fraud in dealings with his partner, Walter VanGrundy. He accused the defendant of selling soybeans and keeping the money for his own use.

Justice of peace court bound Hobart Tisdale of Leislville to grand jury after he was accused of stealing a dog valued at $75 and owned by Charles Leislure.

Following is a list of the Pickaway County grand jurors:

their retreat. The Communist advance, reportedly now well past Tuhsien, was thus apparently sweeping south unopposed.

Tuhsien lies on China's greatest railroad—the line from Red-occupied Tientsin in the north to Pukow. It is the last major rail-point north of the Pukow terminus itself.

Observers believed Gen. Li's forces may have been ordered to offer no further resistance to the pursuing Communists. This would be tantamount to a unilateral cease-fire order.

Such an unusual military directive, it was felt, may have been issued in an effort to convince the Communists of the Nationalists' sincerity in seeking to end China's fratricidal bloodshed, even if that involves virtual surrender.

MORE THAN ever before the Communists now seemed in a strong position to enforce their terms following the surrender of Peiping and the consequent Red assumption of effective control over all North China.

Peiping, for many centuries the fabulous capital of China's Manchu emperors, was handed over to Red siege forces Saturday without a struggle. In surrendering China's most venerated and beautiful city, Gen. Fu Tso-Yi, North China nationalist commander-in-chief, bowed to 13 Communist demands.

Acting President Li Tsung-Jen already has notified the Reds that his government is prepared to talk peace on the basis of Communist Leader Mao Tse-Tung's eight-point "peace ultimatum" which calls for almost total Nationalist capitulation on all remaining fronts.

Two Injured In Car Crash West Of City

Two men are in Berger hospital as a result of an auto-truck crash shortly after noon Monday on Route 22, near the intersection with Route 104 west of Circleville.

They are Clarence Abbott, 52, Pittsburgh, Pa., driver of the automobile, and Ray Bachman, 41, of Deer Park, O., operator of the three-quarter ton truck.

Berger hospital attaches said Abbott suffered a possible skull fracture and that Bachman sustained a possible fracture of the right arm and leg.

Deputy Sheriff Carl Radcliff said Abbott was attempting to pass the truck in a non-passing zone when the truck cut to the left into the path of Abbott's car.

He said Bachman apparently did not see the car until it was too late. Abbott's car hit the truck on the right door and drove the truck into a ditch.

Jaycee Meeting

Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold an booster meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the Ford Showroom on Franklin street.

Purpose of the meeting is to attract new members and to discuss worthy projects for the coming year. The Jay-Cees recently completed its program to back the Blue Cross conscription drive here.

DEATHS and Funerals

MRS. FRANK FINNEY

Mrs. Teeny Ann Finney, 93, formerly of 206 West Ohio street who died Saturday morning in the home of a son-in-law and daughter, the Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Seymour of Hillsboro, will be buried Tuesday.

Funeral arrangements have been completed for the late Mrs. Frank Finney. The Rev. James A. Herbst, pastor of Calvary EUB church, will officiate for services at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Defenbaugh funeral home.

Burial will be in Spring Bank cemetery, Williamsport.

Mrs. Finney also has another daughter in addition to Mrs. Seymour, Miss Eva B. Finney of the home, and a son, Charles F. Finney, of Coshocton. Other survivors include four grandsons, one great grandson and a step granddaughter.

Friends may call in the funeral home.

DONNA KAY ARLEDGE

Donna Kay Arledge, six months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arledge of Orient Route 1, Derby Township died of pneumonia at 6 p. m. Saturday.

The baby born, Sept. 29, 1947, in Berger hospital was the daughter of Paul and Alice Jinks Arledge.

Besides the parents she is survived by three brothers, Paul Robert, David Lee and Ronnie Eugene Arledge, all of the home.

Funeral services will be at 11 a. m. Wednesday in the Laurelvale EUB church. The Rev. Raymond Welch will officiate. Burial will be made in Green Summit cemetery, Adelphi, by the Defenbaugh funeral home.

Friends may call in the residence located in Darby Township, South of Harrisburg.

HENRY MORRIS

Henry Morris, 78, of Ashville, died at 6:16 p. m. Sunday in Berger hospital following a lengthy illness.

Mr. Morris was born Feb. 14, 1873 in Cincinnati, and was a retired hardware merchant. He had operated a hardware store in Ashville for several years.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Esther Kauffman and Mrs. Zelma Topolosky of Ashville; a son, Irwin, of Ashville; and a sister, Mrs. Mose Grusd, of Cincinnati.

Funeral services are to be held in the Weile funeral home in Cincinnati at 1 p. m. Tuesday. Burial will be in Clifton Jewish cemetery there.

Arrangements were completed by the E. F. Schlegel funeral home of Ashville.

SARAH JENNIE STOUT

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday for Sarah Jennie Stout, 91, a lifelong resident of Circleville who died Saturday in the Margaret McKenzie Nursing Home, Columbus.

The widow of Emanuel M. Stout, she made her home the last few years with Mrs. Marvin Yerke of 1775 Waltham road, Columbus.

Burial will be in the Williamsport cemetery.

May, Garsson Convictions Held Legal

to carry out the sentence against them.

The defendants have 30 days in which to send their petition for review to the supreme court. Their lawyers have already announced that they would take the case to the high tribunal if necessary.

The trial of the three men was based on the government's charge that May got $53,000 from the Garssons for putting pressure on the war department on their behalf.

THE GARSSONS headed a munitions combine which rose from a mere letterhead to a $78,000,000 war contract business. The brilliant Henry Garsson was the "brains" of the business, while Murray, a former assistant to the secretary of labor was his right hand man.

The ties between May and the Garssons were first exposed by the senate war investigating committee, headed at that time by former Sen. James Mead (D) N. Y.

Their trial lasted eleven weeks and was featured by the testimony of such dignitaries as Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, former Secretary of State George Marshall, army Secretary Kenneth Royall, and other prominent persons.

Federal Judge Henry A. Schweinhaut imposed sentence after a careful speech in which May denied he had done a wrong and asked for consideration of his family's good name. The judge refrained from imposing a fine.

Autoist Acts To Minimize Fire On Farm

Timely action of a passing motorist and the rural fire department limited damage to the Ralph Smith home on Route 56 to only an estimated $350 Sunday morning.

Bob Perdue, of near Tarlton, was driving toward Circleville shortly after 6 a. m. Sunday when he noticed the east end of the Smith house blazing. He roused the sleeping family and called for the rural truck.

His call luckily came as Fire Chief Palmer Wise was reporting for duty, affording an extra man on the truck. Regular fireman on the run was Dan Eitel. When the firemen arrived the whole east side of the home was blazing, from the foundation to the gable.

Wise said he believed the fire originated from a fireplace in the living room which he said burned through at the rear and ignited the wooden outside boards.

Six Teen Agers Stage 31 Thefts

PORTSMOUTH, O., Jan. 24 — Portsmouth police had on their hands today a gang of six teen age boys who have confessed at least 31 robberies which netted hundreds of dollars in cash and an unknown quantity of merchandise in the last two months.

They said the juveniles, ranging in age from 12 to 16, looted two churches, five schools and several business places. More robberies are expected to be cleared up when the boys are questioned further.

Papers Filed In Two Estates

Inventory and appraisal papers on two estates have been filed for the approval of Judge Sterling M. Lamb in Pickaway County probate court.

They are the Sidner W. Cummins estate valued at $8,853.36 and estate of Fred E. Hickie, valued at $3,195.40, court records reveal.

Appraisement papers on Mr. Cummins estate were filed by Herbert and Lewis Cummins, executors, showing $4,250 in bonds, notes and other securities, $3,823.36 in accounts and the remainder in personal goods.

Estate appraisers were Walter Hedges, E. L. Runkle and E. W. Seeds.

Eva Hickie filed the papers on her husband's estate showing $1,500 in real estate, $1,345.40 in accounts receivable and $350 in personal goods.

The appraisers were H. E. Louis, John T. Dick and Percy May.

Motorist Hurt As Car Crashes

A 51-year-old Carroll Route 1 man suffered two fractured ribs Sunday afternoon when he lost control of his car on Reber road and overturned.

He was William Johnson. Deputy Sheriff Carl Radcliff said the accident happened about 2:30 p. m. one mile east of Walnut Township school.

Johnson was west bound when his vehicle hit a dip in the road. Deputy Radcliff said the auto plowed through a fence before it overturned and came to a stop.

Guarantees Required On Nation Aid

Investment Security
Not To Rest On U.S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—White House sources disclosed today that countries aided under President Truman's "bold new program" for raising world living standards must make guarantees to American investors.

These sources said that item four in the President's inaugural four-point plan to bring "peace, plenty and freedom" to the peoples of underdeveloped countries has been misinterpreted widely.

Republican leaders in congress bitterly assailed the proposal on the ground it would require additional billions of government spending to guarantee U. S. private industrial investments abroad.

White House sources stated emphatically that the President made no such proposal, and had nothing of the sort in mind.

They said the "guarantees to the investor" mentioned by the President means that the country in which U. S. private industry built a plant, developed a mine or oil field, or built a railroad, must have adequate guarantees that such investments would not be confiscated, subjected to unfair taxation, or otherwise circumscribed by discriminatory practices.

They described as "ridiculous", interpretations of the plan as an underwriting of foreign investments by this government.

Those familiar with Mr. Truman's new proposal to banish "hunger, misery and despair" from other freedom-loving lands said that to put it in effect would require no huge scale government spending.

The investments, they said, would be wholly of a private nature.

The plan is, to take up where the Marshall Plan leaves off.

WHITE HOUSE sources said the key phrase of the proposal lies in these sentences from the inaugural address:

"The material resources which we can afford to use for the assistance of other peoples are limited. But our indispensable resources in technical knowledge are constantly growing and are inexhaustible."

I believe we should make available to peace-loving peoples the benefits of our store of technical knowledge... and, in cooperation with other nations, we should foster capital investments in areas needing development...

"We invite other countries to pool their technological resources... this should be a cooperative enterprise... it must be world wide."

IT WAS emphasized the United States cannot go on forever exhausting its own resources and wealth as it is being done under the seventeen billion dollar European recovery plan.

The President's new plan would go into effect after the Marshall Plan has primed the pump of recovery in the lands it aids.

Instead of further exhausting U. S. natural resources, the resources of other countries would be developed and used to aid their own recovery.

Let's get at the truth

Disagreement, allowed to go unchecked, can cause wars, depression, misery for everyone. It can be cured by an honest effort toward mutual understanding. But understanding must be based on agreement of fundamentals. Here are a few facts or definitions with which all sincere men will agree. Let's start from there.

Free Enterprise—The freedom to be as enterprising as you wish and to keep the results of your enterprise. In other words, your right to own things.

Corporation—A group of individuals who have pooled their savings in order to go into business in a more efficient way than if each kept his savings and went into business by himself. Many processes such as making steel take such big, expensive machinery that there could be no such companies (with their many good jobs) without this corporation method of pooling savings.

Price—The sum of all the costs of making something (materials, labor, taxes) plus payment for the tools and the use of tools which made the work possible. This payment for tools is called profit. In 1947 profits of American corporations were only 5% out of each dollar of sales or price.

Wages (or Salary)—The worker's share of what he produces. It is by far the largest share—in fact it is everything after the necessary payments are made for materials, taxes and tools.

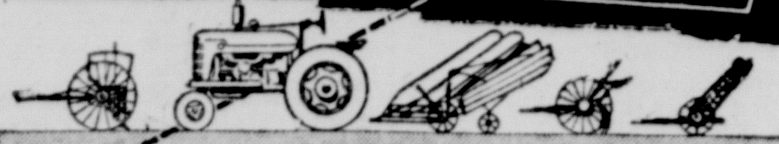

Standard of Living—What your salary or wages will buy. Not dollars alone but what your dollars will get. That's why low prices are important, plus efficient production which creates jobs. It is when costs are low which means low prices, and everyone is producing efficiently, that your standard of living goes up.

In our daily contacts, we may be on opposite sides of a question, but if in discussing it we use the same and truthful meanings, understanding will be easier, many serious disagreements will vanish, and we'll all be better off.

BONUS FOR VETERANS

THERE is rising agitation for the payment of a federal bonus to the veterans of World War II. Other budget proposals seem likely to keep Congress thoroughly occupied in the present session, but on the basis of experience after other wars, the bonus pressure may be expected to continue and mount until something is done about it.

The estimated cost of bonus plan which have been proposed is staggering. One guess ranges as high as 67 billion dollars. It is not popular to oppose benefits for veterans, nor to question the cost of them. But the veterans' organizations would do well to seek competent, unprejudiced advice on the probable effect of a large bonus on the national economy.

The cost of any bonus probably would be so high that it could be financed only by adding the sum to the national debt. The money would be borrowed on a long term basis, but would be turned into the buying channels in one tremendous surge. The inflationary effect would be much more violent than any which has been observed in the post-war period.

Veterans have had experience with inflation in the last two or three years. How many of them would cast a vote for more of it?

GERONTOLOGY

AN EXPENSIVE word has been found—Gerontology. Translated into English, this means simply "old age." A Gerontological Society has just been holding its annual meeting in New York City, and discussing the problems of that time of life. Dr. Martin Gumpert of New York told the gathering that it was a shock to find suddenly that old age was taking hold, and that a man who has made that discovery and is disturbed by it might do well to see a doctor.

Probably instead of being disturbed by oncoming old age, the victim of advancing years should join the group who hold to the words of Browning's:

"Grow old along with me, the best is yet to be—
The last of life, for which the first is made.

But to get back to Gerontology, it is doubtful if the word will ever be popular. In by-gone days there was a much-favored piece of slick repartee, "So's your old man!" This would never have had much appeal if phrased, "So's your member of the Gerontological Society!"

This country is teeming with people who never saw the inside of a public library, and wouldn't know quite what to do if they accidentally found themselves inside. If they had a chance to try one, they'd probably enjoy it.

'Liberal' GOP Chieftains Believe Yankee Senator Can Capture Presidency

Special to Central Press
WASHINGTON—The so-called "liberal" Republican leaders already are grooming Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts as their presidential candidate for 1952.

First step was the recently defeated move of the "Young Turks" to oust Senator Robert A. Taft, Ohio, as GOP Senate policy maker, and replace him with Lodge.

By 1952 the GOP "progressives" feel that the Republicans will be ready to nominate one of the "liberals" for the presidency. They say that if this is done, the Republicans can win the White House victory they expected last November.

Lodge will be 50 years old in 1952—four years older than Thomas E. Dewey when the New Yorker made the race last year.

The Massachusetts "blue blood" broke his Senate career to become a combat officer in World War II. At the Republican national convention last June, he was chairman of the platform committee.

One of Lodge's staunchest supporters is reported to be Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee in the 80th Congress.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

I received a letter from Miss Agnes Lewis, corresponding secretary of the National Blue Star Mothers of America of Philadelphia.

Miss Lewis enclosed a letter which she wrote to Sen. Francis Myers, in the course of which she attacks the state of Israel and supports the Arabs. It is a curious letter.

For instance, take this paragraph:

"To bolster (Senator Myers's) side of the argument you stated that because the state of Israel was endorsed by both major political parties that it had the backing of the American people. Nothing could be further from the truth, Senator. The fact that the policy-making of both political parties is engineered by a small and powerful group of 'unseen advisers' does not mean that it meets with the approval of the American people as a whole."

Miss Lewis apparently does not recognize that the United States is a representative republic, its policies formed by men chosen at elections, generally from the two major parties of the county. These two parties meet in convention every four years and draw up a statement of principles to guide those of their adherents elected to office. In the 1948 election, the chairman of the Republican resolutions committee was Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.; his Democratic opposite number was Sen. Francis J. Myers.

Miss Lewis refers to "a small and powerful group of 'unseen advisers.'" Who were members of such a group? What were their names? For whom did they speak? It would be interesting to know about this. Both committees were large and their membership of diverse political views. How does it happen that not one member of either committee protested against this "small but powerful group of unseen advisers"?

Further, Miss Lewis makes the point that the two parties do not speak for the American people. Who does? Both parties together gathered a vote in 1948 totaling about 46,000,000. That is roughly a third of the total population, counting everyone from the cradle to the grave. That, I should say, is pretty representative. Certainly nothing that exists is more representative.

Then this lady says:
"From the tone of your remarks, Senator, are we to assume that in accepting this state you condone the deliberate and diabolical destruction of many of the holy places in Palestine by radical Jews? Do you condone the wanton killing of thousands of innocent people whose only offense has been a defense of their homeland against a ruthless invader? Do you condone the complete isolation of Bethlehem, the birthplace of Christ, for Christmas worship. We refer you to the Catholic press for facts."

Again, I raise the question of fact. What holy places have been destroyed. Precisely, which ones? This is not the first war in Palestine. In fact, the ground has been fought over for 40 centuries. At the very time that Jesus appeared in Palestine, among his people, the Romans were making war in Palestine. Subsequently, every world conqueror traversed this road to India. The Saracens took it, and for centuries, it was part of the domain of the Osmanli Turks. In fact, the British liberated Palestine from Turkish rule in the general war of 1914-1918.

DIET AND HEALTH

Deep Breathing Is Important

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MORE and more we are learning that deep breathing is an important aid to health, for every part of the lungs should be exercised just as should every other part of the body.

The taking of air into the lungs and expelling it are aided in great part by the muscle between the chest and abdomen known as the diaphragm. After operations, the movements of the diaphragm may be restricted, and this in turn may be a factor in allowing lung complications to occur.

Abdominal Muscles

This movement of the diaphragm following operation is diminished because the movement of the muscles of the abdomen is restricted due to pain, injury, or dressings. The promotion of normal breathing after operation is best brought about by having the patient up and about. However, this may not always be possible. Hence, it is suggested by Dr. John Hawkins, of London, that assistance can be given by teaching the patient to practice breathing correctly before operation and to carry out breathing exercises after operation. These exercises, which consist in expanding and relaxing the chest, should emphasize the use of abdominal breathing, i.e., exercises involving full use of the diaphragm.

These periods of exercise should be short—ranging from ten to fifteen minutes—and frequent—five or six times a day. A long session of exercise is exhausting to the patient. The exercises are started as soon as the patient has recovered from the effects of the anesthetic.

Abdominal binders in general should be avoided if possible. Movements in bed are helpful to the action of the diaphragm. The foot of the bed may be raised, and the patient may turn first on one side and then on the other, several times a day, if it is permissible, depending upon the type of operation performed.

Rate of Breathing

As a rule doctors feel that drugs which decrease the rate or depth of breathing should not be used. It is also suggested that if the patient smokes he give up the habit for a few days before the operation is carried out. Of course, the patient should not be operated upon if he has an infection of the respiratory tract, unless there is an acute emergency.

It is important, too, that the patient be protected in every way possible following operation by keeping away from him anyone with any signs of infection, and by making sure that all things which come in contact with him are sterilized. It would seem important, in the prevention of lung complications, that the breathing exercises be utilized.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

R. W.: My tongue is sore and red, cracks open, and looks raw. What would cause this condition?

Answer: A disorder of this type may be due to infection or to a vitamin deficiency. Sore tongue is often a symptom accompanying a certain type of anemia in which there is lack of coloring in the blood. A thorough study to find the cause would be necessary, before treatment could be carried out.

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN
FOR AN instant Ingrid Johnson sat motionless, as if Tim's statement that her papers had been taken from Molly B.'s safe had stunned her.

"My papers? Do you mean my citizenship papers and letters I keep there? How, when were they taken? Who would want them? Is anything else missing? Were the jewels or the money stolen?"

"No. Whoever opened the safe."

"Was it cracked?"

"No. Someone got wise to the combination. The thief apparently wanted only your papers and Roger Stewart's letters to his wife."

"Those gone? Then they were what the safe-opener wanted, mine were red herring drawn across the trail. Molly B. has told me that in them her husband indicated what he wished done with this property, eventually. Who would be the most interested person to know? That's easy, Henry Lander. He's scheming to marry her to get this place. He's not so much younger than she, as you—"

"Not so loud, Ingrid. Voices carry in this clear air and it's hush-hush that the safe was opened."

"Sorry. When did Molly B. discover that the papers were gone?"

"He told of the lost safe combination, of Debby's notebook on the floor."

"What do you make of it?"

"It must have been someone in the house and a first offender or he or she—wouldn't have forgotten to put back the notebook. Come to think of it, I'm not so sure it was someone in the house. Now, I'll tell you something. I heard steps on the balcony outside Molly B.'s living room early this morning and yelled."

"You're telling me. Don't you know that you brought every guest in the house, except Sophy Brandt, to that door at 4 a. m.?"

"Molly B. didn't tell me that. She honestly believed I had a nightmare and let her think so. Between the first and second scream I would have sworn I heard footsteps going down the balcony steps. I've been afraid someone would come for her jewels, have begged her to keep the dog in her living room at night."

"Where does he sleep?"

"Scrags takes him to the service cage. Cocky is a dear, but he runs away and then appears at an unearthly hour in the morning and barks on the terrace to let in. I don't wonder Molly B. doesn't want him in her apartment. When the butler has him he barks under his window."

"Why didn't you tell Molly B. about the sound you heard?"

"With daylight came the suspicion that I had had a nightmare, they can be terribly real. No one else apparently had heard anything unusual. Why worry her? Then I was caught up in the Flower Show—caught is right, I felt as if I had been churned round and round in a squirrel cage before the day ended—and I haven't thought of those mysterious footsteps again until now. I believe—"

"Miss Johnson, Scragg's sleek voice brought them to their feet. How long had he been behind them? How much had he overheard?"

"What is it, Scragg?" Ingrid inquired and clutched at Tim's sleeve. Was she afraid of the butler?

"Mrs. Carroll would like to speak to you on the phone, something important about the Flower Show, he said. She's holding the line."

"More heartburning because of the prizes, probably, Tim. The next time I have anything to do with awards I'll be older—a whole lot older. I'll answer at once, Scragg."

"Very good, Miss." The butler hesitated as if waiting for her to precede him, then turned and stalked toward the house.

"You don't have to run, Ingrid," Tim suggested as he kept pace with her through the fragrant garden. "You could call the Carroll person if she hangs up, you know."

"Scragg was so solemn, his voice scared me, suddenly coming on top of your news." At the long, open window on the terrace she stopped. "How did he know where we were? Something queer about that," she added in a whisper before she stepped into the room.

"Mrs. Sophy, what has happened?" Her concerned voice drifted out. "You are crying."

There was a muffled reply before Sophy Brandt came slowly through the open window and sank into a deep chair. Tim heard one sob and then another.

"Anything I can do to help?" he asked before he seated himself beside her. She drew a long ragged breath.

"I'm afraid you can't, Tim. Why, why does he have to get in such a mess when one is old?"

"Cheerio, lady, you're not old. You and Molly B. were classmates. Do you know of anyone, except teen-age hobby-soxers, who would call her old?"

"But she has her work. I have nothing. I can't write or paint, I can knit, play the piano, but who wants that with plenty of youngsters to do it?"

"You could run a house, couldn't you?"

"Certainly I could run a house, but who would engage a woman my age?"

"For Pete's sake, forget that age obsession. Some psychiatrist should start a movement to isolate the age bug. It does more harm than the boll weevil by the loss to the world of experienced workers. I would engage you. I had planned to ask you to live in my house and be my hostess."

"Tim." Excitement brought her out of her slump. Even in the dusk of the terrace he could see her cheeks redden slowly, lightly.

"He'll get me, what's more my opponents won't see me for my smoke." Her laugh was unsteady. "Life begins at sixty-five, Tim."

ONE MAN'S OPINION

This is the 101st anniversary of the discovery of gold in California... almost as startling at the time as the recent discovery of snow in the state.

I hear Hollywood still doesn't believe it was real snow... they keep shaking their heads and saying, "That Zanuck!"

But it was an opportunity for eastern gag men to crack the coast... three Maine boys wired Bob Hope "Have ski jokes and bus tickets."

Anyways, gold was found in California in 1848 but it took the cajoled and prodded, but made no impression whatever.

Finally a motorist drove up. The calf blocked his way. After a brief conference with the farmer, the latter dropped behind the car, and the motorist led out a loud blast with his electric horn.

The panic-stricken calf made a wild leap over the railing of the bridge and was promptly drowned in the whirling current below.

The philosophical farmer summed up the situation in one sentence: "TOO BIGGA DA HONK FOR SO SMALLA DA CALF!"

THE ANSWER, QUICK!

1. Has penicillin been patented?
2. Of what wood are billiard cues made?
3. In what novel was Mr. Micawber a character?
4. In what game is the term "crowning" used?
5. In the currency of the United States, what is an eagle?

YOUR FUTURE

This is an excellent time for family gatherings and for interests that provide variety. Your affairs should prosper in the next 12 months, if you exercise care when dealing with business correspondence. An unexpected benefit also probably will materialize. Today's child should enjoy a maximum of success in life, and may prefer an ultra-modern profession.

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?

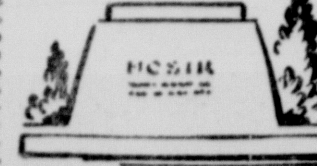

1. No, the discoverer, Sir Alexander Fleming, did not patent it, but dedicated it to the welfare of the world's people.
2. Maple, usually.
3. In Charles Dickens' David Copperfield.
4. Checkers.
5. A 10-dollar gold piece.

Housewarming Arranged By Loyal Daughter Class Honors Mrs. Elliott Mason

Group Has
Cooperative Meal

Mrs. Elliott Mason was feted by Loyal Daughter Class of First Evangelical United Brethren church when the group gathered Saturday evening in her new home on Reber avenue for a housewarming.

A "carry-in" meal preceded a social evening of games and a few selected readings. Mrs. Paul Woodward and Mrs. Ezra Pritchard were in charge of the entertainment. Mrs. Hervey Hinton directed the contests.

The Rev. and Mrs. Carl L. Wilson were guests at the affair. The class presented Mrs. Mason with a gift.

Barbara Allen Feted At Birthday Party

Barbara Allen, nine-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Allen was honored at a birthday party Saturday given by her mother in their West Main street home.

Those invited were Mary Cochran, Carol Weiler, Sharon Hedges, Nancy Myers, Sharon Galt, Elaine and Judy Woodward, Judy Rockwell, Carolyn Valentine, Ann Steele, Jeanette and Ethelda Moats, Ronnie Quincell, Stephen Heeter, Allen Moats, Edward Myers and James Allen of the home.

Games were played with prizes being won by Ethelda Moats, Sharon Hedges and Mary Cochran. Ice cream and a decorated birthday cake were served. Mrs. Allen was assisted by Mrs. Gerald Woodward and Mrs. Frank Rockwell of Circleville.

First EUB Church Women Set Meet

Mrs. Russell Jones will direct devotions when the Ruth Circle entertains members of the Ladies Aid-Service Circles of First EUB church at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the community house.

This will be the regular monthly business session with Mrs. Paul Dawson, general aid president and Circle supervisor, presiding. Plans for the annual chicken supper will be arranged. Members will take dish towels for the kitchen shower.

Combine less popular vegetables with well liked ones, such as carrots with peas. Try cubed turnips with potatoes in cream or cheese sauce, sliced parsnips with creamed onions, Brussels sprouts with chestnuts.

Hard boiled eggs are an attractive garnish for dishes like creamed fish, green vegetables or chowders. The whites may be chopped and added to the dish, and the yolks forced through a sieve and sprinkled over the top.

TIFFIN MAN LOSES 40 LBS. WITH RENNEL

"I cannot say enough for what Rennel has done for me," writes Mr. D. S. Ladd, Box 805, Tiffin, Ohio. "I am 67 years of age. Since taking Rennel I have lost 40 lbs. and feel so much better."

It's simple. It's amazing. How quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappear—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Officers Elected For Sewing Club

Mrs. Cornell Copel and was elected president of "Pitch-In" Sewing Club at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Roy May, East Ringgold. Others elected were Mrs. Elmer Barr, Jr., vice-president, Mrs. Charles Barthelmas, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Ralph Dresbach, corresponding secretary.

Lunch was served at close of the meeting. Mrs. Myles Bell invited the group to gather in her East Ringgold home for the next meeting.

In making meringue for a pie, be sure to beat in the sugar gradually, one tablespoon at a time, and beat extremely well after each addition. After all the sugar is added, the meringue should be beaten until it is very thick and glossy and the peaks stand up well when the beater is withdrawn.

Sokolsky's These Days

The Arabs were a people subject to the Ottoman during all those centuries. The Arabs in Iraq, Syria, Saudi Arabia, Trans-Jordan, Palestine, Yemen, Egypt were freed from the Ottoman, principally by the British, who at the same time uttered the Balfour Declaration, which promised the Jews a national homeland in Palestine.

True, a simultaneous promise was made to Jew and Arab which produced confusion, but not as much confusion as Miss Lewis's letter.

As a matter of fact, the Holy places of Christendom have been respected by both the Jews and Arabs as much as is possible in time of war and much better than was done in Italy by our own troops and the Germans during World War II. There has been no bombing in Palestine equal to the demolition of Cas-sino.

Miss Lewis's letter says that the aims and purposes of her organization are "to retain our republic and our constitutional form of government." How falsehood about Palestine does that, she does not make clear.

Tourney List Trimmed To Eight Teams

Williamsport In By Virtue Of Bye

Pickaway County Junior Tournament was trimmed to eight teams after first round play Saturday in Jackson township gym. Teams breaking into second round standings were Jackson, Salt Creek, Monroe, Walnut, Ashville, Scioto and Pickaway.

Williamsport drew a bye in the first round. Jackson earned its berth Saturday by winning New Holland juniors 52-27. The winners led all the way in the contest, having registered a 20-point, 31-11 halftime margin. Jackson's Hoover was high scorer with 14 points, while New Holland's Campbell paced the losers with 11.

Salt Creek juniors received their bid for second round play by edging Atlanta by a 30-26 final. Atlanta led at halftime with a 20-16 count, but was held scoreless in the third period and garnered but six in the final while Salt Creek's 14. Salt Creek's Tatman was accredited high scoring laurels with 17 points.

Monroe advanced in tourney standings in the third game Saturday by posting a 31-22 win over South Bloomfield. The South Bloomfielders garnered the lead in the first two periods of the encounter, but were outscored in the final two for the loss. Bloomfield's Wilson was high scorer in the match with 15 points.

WALNUT BESTED Duval by the same 31-22 score Monroe held over Bloomfield in its match, but led all the way to cop the win. Duval's Wallen ranked as high scorer with 17 points.

Closest game of the evening was between Ashville and Darby, when the Ashvillers posted a meagre 36-35 win in an overtime period. Darby had led for the first three periods of play, but Ashville knotted the game in the final stanza at 31-11, and in the overtime collected five points while limiting Darby juniors to but four. Darby's Brady was high scorer with 12 points.

Pickaway swamped Wayne by a 41-28 count in their tilt to advance to second round standings. Wayne knotted the score in the first period at 7-11, but in resulting periods the Pickaway aggregation led hands down. Wayne's Jacobs was high scorer in the fracas.

Scioto bested Muhlenberg by a 12-point, 34-26 margin in the final game of the evening. Muhlenberg held a 7-5 advantage in the first period but was tied at 13-11 at the half. Scioto annexed scoring for the remainder of the tilt. Scioto's Stewart paced scoring efforts with 19 points.

Second round of play in the junior tourney will be held in the Jackson gym Monday. Schedule for the four games is as follows: Williamsport vs. Salt Creek at 6 p. m.; Walnut vs. Monroe at 7 p. m.; Pickaway vs. Ashville at 8 p. m.; and Jackson vs. Scioto at 9 p. m.

Patty Noses Out Babe By Single Point

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 24—Patty Berg, of Minneapolis, has a warm spot in her heart today for Tampa's Palma Ceia Golf course over which she won the Tampa women's open.

The Minnesota professional golfer scored the best competitive round of her career—a 68—on that course earlier in the week, and for the 72-hole route over the 6,093-yard course, she equaled the women's competitive play record with a 295.

Miss Berg's final card Sunday was a 74, which put her one stroke ahead of Mrs. Mildred (Babe) Didrikson Zaharias in the final total.

Benefit Game Slated For Monday Evening

Pickaway County's $10,000 March of Dimes benefit basketball game will be held in Fairgrounds Coliseum beginning at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

Three stellar attractions are booked for the carnival, to date the largest planned benefit on the March of Dimes campaign schedule.

Circleville American Legion Post is to open the evening's program against Southway Post of Columbus, now leading.

Three Games Featured In H.S. Saturday

Only three games were played in the junior, Circleville high school intramural basketball league Saturday.

In the first game the Clarence Brigners edged the Gary Thomases 20-16, although scoring but a single tally in the final frame while the Thomases garnered five. L. Brigner paced the winning five with 10 points.

Fred Davies doubled the score on the Tommy Elses in the second engagement to sport a 26-14 victory. M. Brown led scoring for the winners with 10 points.

Roger Benningtons swamped Kenneth Bensonhavers in the final game of the series with a final count of 72-8. J. Cockrell paced scoring for the victors with 14 points, while Bensonhaver garnered all eight points for his team.

Unemployment Benefits Show Sharp Drop During 1948

Pickaway Pay Drops $93,462

Weekly Average Set At $16.16

Payments for unemployment compensation in Pickaway County last year dropped $93,462 compared to the total outlay for benefits in 1947.

The Circleville office of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported that $107,316 was paid out in the months past. In 1947, the overall figure was $200,778, officials declared.

C. C. Thomas, manager of local branch office, said the average weekly wage paid to unemployed persons last year was $16.16, down from $17.15 in 1947, he said, representing an increase of 34 cents per payment.

Record of the annual report was compiled by Miss Wolfe covering the unemployment service both industrial and agricultural, the latter under direction of Walton Spanier. Last year the Circleville office placed 454 persons in local jobs. Of these, 377 were industrial openings and 77 were farm placements, Miss Wolfe reported.

AN INDICATION of the business conducted in the Bureau in one year is found in the list of office contacts. Miss Wolfe said 16,866 such interviews were recorded here last year.

During the same period, there were 945 applications filed in the office here for employment. In an effort to locate job openings, Thomas made 792 employer visits and 565 farm visits were made by Spangler.

According to records maintained in the BUC office, there are 2,375 Pickaway County workers covered by the Unemployment Compensation Act figured from September of 1947.

Last year, new claims totaled 483 with 390 listed under the Ohio Law and 93 under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act.

Also, there was a total of 7,276 continued claims filed of which 3,545 were veterans. For the same period, 99 self-employed claims were filed, Miss Wolfe said.

Approximately 50 interstate claims were handled by the Cir-

Two Fined In City Court As Drunk Drivers

Six men were fined a total of $305 and costs in the court of Mayor Thurman I. Miller over the weekend.

Zebulon Powell of Ashville was assessed $100 and costs Saturday on an accusation of drunken driving. He was arrested at Cromley Road by State Highway Patrolman Earl Wattles.

James Cross of Columbus also paid a $100 fine and costs on the same charge. He was taken to custody of Route 23 by State Highway Patrolman Clyde Robert Lee Camp of 626 East Second street was fined $25 and costs on two separate occasions in the court Sunday.

Charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest, Officer John McGinnis is the arresting officer in the case.

Another driver on Route 104 with the assessed clear driving was arrested by State Highway Patrolman Wells.

One of Columbus was fined $20 and costs for driving on the right of way direction of Walton Spanier.

Last of the drivers to appear before the court was Duane McGinnis of Kalkaska, Mich.

He was given a fine of $10 and costs for speeding on Route 104. State Highway Patrolman W. Brooks said McGinnis travelled at 70 miles per hour.

A passing motorist said he stopped when he saw the man standing on the rail of the U. S. Grant bridge on the Ohio-Kentucky state line.

The motorist said when he jumped from the car to stop him, the man disappeared, presumably into the 60 feet of water below.

Meanwhile, employees of the office also conducted 192 aptitude tests, mostly for the new General Electric plant here.

Capitol Hill Asks Tipoff On Farm Aid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—Capitol hill called Agriculture Secretary Brannan to day for a tip-off on how for the administration wants to go in liberalizing the Republican enacted farm program.

Brannan was asked to appear in a closed-door meeting of the Senate agriculture committee for a preliminary talk on revision of the Aiken bill, which figured in the farm state upset of Republican hopes last November.

The key question is whether the Truman administration will go along with demands for continuance of the wartime basic crop supports at 90 percent of the estimated "parity" price or stick to the flexible floor program of the Aiken act.

President Truman has called for an "adequate" farm program, but has not said specifically whether he wants to scrap the Aiken plan.

The Aiken measure, which becomes effective next January, sets up a sliding scale of supports reaching from 60 to 90 percent of parity—larger in lean years and smaller when bumper crops occur.

Parity is the estimated price level which would give the farmer the same purchasing power he had in other years. The era of 1910 to 1914 used to be the base period. The Aiken measure uses a movable period covering the preceding ten years.

Brannan took a hand in writing the flexible parity legislation and Sen. Aiken (D-Vt.) declared that the agriculture department was in complete agreement on its major points.

Eden In Toronto

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 24—Anthony Eden, Britain's former foreign minister addressed the Toronto board of trade today.

The British conservative party leader arrived in Toronto last night from Ottawa where he discussed world affairs with Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and L. B. Pearson, minister of external affairs.

Fleckner To Take It Easy During Reign

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 24—State Liquor Director Oscar L. Fleckner said today he "will deal fairly" with all license holders during his reign.

Fleckner, in defending a raid on the Lancaster Eagles club, reiterated his stand to follow the law. He said of the raid made by Enforcement Chief Anthony A. Rutkowski and an agent:

"The law is clear, I believe, and I'm expecting him to do his job."

"The assignment of the department contemplated enforcement practices dealing fairly with all types of permittees."

Cows Get Gifts Of Swiss Bells

SHELBY, O., Jan. 24—Swiss cow bells will ring familiar melodies for Karl Oesch, a Richland county dairy farmer.

Oesch and his wife, Julie, recently returned from a vacation in Switzerland. He came to the United States 45 years ago to specialize in dairy farming. On his return from his native land, Oesch brought each of his cows a present.

Each cow has a bell with a different note. Each bears an inscription of Oesch's initials, the year of manufacture, the Swiss flag shield and a flower.

Death Writes Romance Finis

AKRON, O., Jan. 24—The end of a wartime romance was filed today in Akron under the heading "murder and suicide."

Dead are Mrs. Marion Anderson, 22, and her estranged husband, John C., 27, an Ohio State university veterinary student.

Witnesses said the attractive brunette was shot down by her husband Saturday night less than a block from a police station.

Anderson, after allegedly pumping five bullets into his wife's body, then shot himself through the head.

Police said the Andersons separated six months ago. They were married Sept. 10, 1944, after a wartime romance.

A Test of Years

—SINCE 1919—

You Don't "Guess"

What Your Floors will Look Like when You Buy Cromar or Charter Oak

- You can see, inspect and actually test the finish before you invest a single penny.
- You're not inconvenienced with a lot of dust, dirt and offensive varnish odors. That's all taken care of at the factory.
- You're not bothered with long delays waiting for finishing materials to dry. Two carpenters lay CROMAR or CHARTER OAK at the speed of a room a day.
- When the last nail is driven you have a completely finished floor. Move your furniture back in place and start at once to enjoy the transformation this beautiful floor will make in the rooms of your home.

You'll be as Pleased with the Economy of a Cromar or Charter Oak Floor as You will be with its Beauty and Performance.
